

ED - Bokura Dake no Shudaika

Source: Crunchyroll

We can't go back anymore
This new pain we felt while waiting for the spring

We jumbled our love and dreams into it and ran

These scars we gained while playfully messing around

That seem to fade but just won't disappear We'll be walking away from a place That's different from where we piled them on

Putting the days we spent sobbing behind us
I'm going to go
See? Just watch me
We laughed during the fun times
We got mad over misunderstandings
I'm going to make our dream come true Whenever I'm sad, whenever I'm in a lot of pain

I'll use the memories I recall and the time we spent together

As a backrest for my heart to lean on The next time we look behind us I hope we can still smile and wave at each other

Even if we wander deep into the forest
The sunlight lets us know that the dawn is coming

Even if we can't see it
The past, future, and present hold hands Shining upon the next night

I'm right here
Please come to my side
The desires I left behind still linger Even though I go through life putting up a strong front

When I want to see you,
when I want to embrace you

I'll use the memories I recall
and the time we spent together

To guide me through the future I can't see When I scream in despair
That I want to disappear or run away Even on the worst of days
When I loathed encounters and miracles Since I can't pretend they never happened I hope that in the end, I can at least feel That I'm still glad to be alive
I'm going to go
I'm going to find something more important than you

Because you're the most important person to me

When I want to see you,

I'll use the memories I recall

I'll sing these precious feelings for you over and over

And I'll make them into a theme song just for us
