[02:09] Haniwa A

Hello!

[02:11] Gunma-chan

Hello!

[02:12] Haniwa B

Hello!

[02:14] Gunma-chan

What game are you guys playing?

[02:16] Haniwa A

We're not playing a game.

[02:18] Haniwa B

We're engaging in political debate.

[02:21] Gunma-chan

Political... de... bate...?

[02:24] Gunma-chan

That sounds hard...

[02:25] Haniwa C

Not at all, it's very simple.

[02:27] Haniwa C

All you have to do is gather supporters.

[02:29] Haniwa D

Gunma-chan, the Haniwa Tribe is governed as a democracy.

[02:34] Gunma-chan

Umm...

[02:37] Narrator

"Democracy" is when sovereignty belongs to citizens,

[02:48] Gunma-chan

Demo... cracy. It's so difficult.

[02:51] Haniwa C

Not at all, it's very simple.

[02:53] Haniwa C

We decide on things with majority rules.

[02:56] Gunma-chan

Oh! That's easy!

[02:59] Haniwa D

"Politics" actually isn't that complicated.

[03:02] Gunma-chan

Got it!

[03:03] Gunma-chan

Kay, bye!

[03:05] Haniwa A

Wait! Now hang on one second!

[03:09] Gunma-chan

What is it?

[03:10] Haniwa B

Our State is currently...

[03:13] Haniwa A

Divided between the Haniwa Genki Party and...

[03:15] Haniwa B

the Genki Haniwa Party.

[03:18] Gunma-chan

Oh...

[03:25] Gunma-chan

You look the same.

[03:27] Haniwa A

How could you say that?!

[03:28] Haniwa B

We are completely different!

[03:30] Gunma-chan

Are you sure...?

[03:31] Haniwa A/B

An-y-wa-y!

[03:34] Haniwa A

Currently, our two parties have the exact same number of members!

[03:38] Haniwa B

Which means there's no majority and we can't decide on anything!

[03:43] Gunma-chan

Then how about you try rock-paper-scissors or draw lots?

[03:46] Haniwa C

We can't do that!
It would be completely unfair!

[03:48] Haniwa C

It must be a clean process pledged before God to be decided honorably!

[03:55] Gunma-chan

Then how about having Kofun-sama decide?

[03:58] Haniwa D

Kofun-sama is a symbol of the Haniwa Tribe, he does not rule!

[04:34] Haniwa B

[04:46] Gunma-chan

[04:54] Gunma-chan

SIGN Virus

[16:12] Narrator

Viruses are much smaller.

[16:16] Gunma-chan

That's real small!

[16:18] Narrator

These viruses actually can't survive on their own.

[16:23] Gunma-chan

Then how do they live?

[16:25] Narrator

They enter into other creatures and multiply to make more of their own.

[16:29] Gunma-chan

Multiply?

[16:31] Narrator

Yes.

[16:32] Narrator

There's only one objective for viruses:

[16:35] Narrator

To multiply.

[16:37] Gunma-chan

Hey, you multiplied!

[16:38] Narrator

We often hear of "flu epidemics" on the news, right?

[16:43] Narrator

That's viruses multiplying among themselves.

[16:45] Gunma-chan

That's scary.

[16:47] Narrator

Science today doesn't consider viruses organisms.

SIGN Bacteria

SIGN Virus

[16:52] Narrator

Compared to the typical size of bacteria, it's a much smaller agent

[16:56] Narrator

consisting of 95% protein and 5% RNA.

[17:03] Gunma-chan

I can't believe something so small was making me feel so bad.

[17:07] Narrator

Right! Isn't it amazing?!

[17:11] Narrator

This is a virus.

[17:13] Gunma-chan

Hello, virus-san.

[17:15] Virus

Hello.

[17:16] Narrator

Of course, on its own, it can't do much harm.

[17:20] Narrator

But once it enters the body...

[17:23] Gunma-chan

Eek!

[17:25] Narrator

When it enters a living host,
the virus begins multiplying and

[17:30] Narrator

evolves like a living organism.

[17:33] Narrator

Even though it doesn't have the structure of a cell and isn't a living organism itself.

[17:37] Gunma-chan

So it's not alive, but it is? Weird!

[17:41] Narrator

The primary structure of a virus is genetic material and genome

[17:45] Narrator

enclosed in a protein
aggregate called the "capsid".

[17:52] Narrator

The flu virus is what causes symptoms like cold shivers, fever,

[17:56] Narrator

muscle pain, and sluggishness.

[18:01] Gunma-chan

That's so scary!

[18:03] Narrator

Once infected,

[18:05] Narrator

medicine likely has little effect
if not taken within the first 48 hours.

[18:10] Gunma-chan

Oh yeah! So why do we wear masks?

[18:13] Narrator

Masks aren't necessarily
for our own prevention,

[18:16] Narrator

but rather to make sure we don't infect others with viruses.

[18:19] Gunma-chan

Really?

[18:20] Narrator

That's right.

[18:22] Narrator

What do you think is most important in preventing viruses to enter our body?

[18:27] Gunma-chan

Umm... Oh!

[18:29] Gunma-chan

Don't see anyone and don't talk!

[18:32] Narrator

Not quite!

[18:33] Narrator

The best prevention is washing your hands.

[18:36] Gunma-chan

Washing your hands?

[18:37] Narrator

The cell membrane of the flu virus
is made of phospholipids,

SIGN Phospholipid

[18:42] Narrator

and its weakness is soap, which helps to break down that composition.

[18:45] Narrator

When we wash our hands with soap,

SIGN Take your time and wash thoroughly!

[18:47] Narrator

the infectivity of viruses decreases dramatically.

[18:50] Gunma-chan

So washing our hands is important.

[18:52] Narrator

That's right.

[18:54] Narrator

Disinfecting sprays also have the same effect.

[18:57] Narrator

But once you're infected,
it's best to rest and get plenty of sleep.

[19:03] Narrator

It's also important to drink fluids like tea, juice, or soup.

[19:08] Gunma-chan

Then I'll drink a bunch of juice.

[19:10] Narrator

Go right on ahead.

[19:11] Narrator

So to recap, wash your hands
frequently to prevent infections,

[19:15] Narrator

and wear masks to prevent spreading infections you may have to others.

[19:20] Gunma-chan

Wash hands to protect yourself, and wear masks to protect others.

[19:26] Narrator

That's right!

[19:28] Gunma-chan

It's weird that cells are organisms, but viruses aren't.

[19:33] Narrator

They aren't in how we describe things today,

[19:36] Narrator

but our understanding may change in the future.

[19:43] Virus

Hahahaha!

[19:45] Virus

We're here to multiply and make more of our own!

[19:48] Virus

We can even mutate and become stronger viruses as we multiply, you know.

[19:54] Virus

Aren't ya scared?!

[19:55] Gunma-chan

Wahh!

[19:59] Gunma-chan

Gunma Power!

[20:04] Virus

We're not living organisms,
so Gunma Power won't work on us!

[20:10] Virus

Humans always say their gonna "fight us off",

[20:14] Virus

but we're here for one reason only!

[20:17] Virus

To multiply!

[20:20] Gunma-chan

Eek!

[20:21] Narrator

Gunma-chan!

[20:22] Narrator

Here! It's soap!

[20:28] Virus

Ahh!

[20:30] Virus

Fine. We'll spare you for today. But remember...

[20:33] Virus

So long as there's organisms,
we won't go away...

[20:39] Narrator

There's still lots we don't know about viruses.

[20:42] Narrator

Some even coexist with organisms.

[20:45] Narrator

They really are a mysterious substance.

[20:47] Gunma-chan

Wow, it's cool that there's so much we don't know.

[20:51] Gunma-chan

Oh!

[20:52] Gunma-chan

Cough-cough.

[20:57] Gunma-chan's Mom

How are you doing, Gunma-chan?

[21:00] Gunma-chan

I'd like some orange juice, please.

[21:02] Gunma-chan's Mom

Sure thing. Hang on.

[21:08] Narrator

Feel better soon and get back to your usual self!

[21:12] Gunma-chan

Okay!

[21:14] Narrator

I hope you all are also careful to wear masks and wash your hands

[21:17] Narrator

so that viruses don't enter your body.

[21:21] Gunma-chan

I hope so, too!

[21:23] Gunma-chan

Prevention Power... 100%!

Do you all know about who I am?

[23:05] Narrator

As you know, I'm the Narrator, but if I were to ever meet you,

[23:09] Narrator

I'd say, "Nice to meet you".

[23:12] Narrator

*Oh, and in that instance,
I won't look like a Haniwa.*

[23:15] Narrator

I'll probably look very different from what you'd expect.

[23:17] Narrator

I may be a singing, dancing, fried tofu fritter.

[23:20] Narrator

*But all that's just fine.
Appearance and form don't matter.*

[23:23] Narrator

We can start with, "Nice to meet you".

[23:26] Narrator

Things are a little more happy with Gunma-chan.
