I felt the breeze that blew through felt the same as yesterday's
But I know the same day never comes twice
Did you decide to take a different path now Because of the feelings you keep hidden in your heart?
There are skies that can be flown by someone as inexperienced as me
Believing in that took a Braver Mind
I'll try sending this voice on the wind
If even a small beat of my wings
Can raise me up from nothing
Then I'm sure I can make anything come true
I'll make it all come true
No matter where you are I'll play a melody you can hear
We Wish an Authentic Music
Ring out without hesitation
Instead of waiting for the world to change
We should seize the future
Once we realize that we should be able to go
No matter how far away
I learned that the today we only imagined
Can always be made anew
Today is Another Story
Our dreams are here
Our dreams won't sleep anymore
